SCHOOLS, PUBLIC AND PRIVATE.

After the usual vacation, the exercises in all our public hools were resumed yesterday. What a great change as been made in education within the past one or two hundred years, as well as in other matters! The pursuit of knowledge used to be a rough and rugged road, but now it has been graded and levelled, and made a turnpike, if not a railroad. Shakspeare, that accurate delineator of men and manners, tells us of

"——the whining schoolboy, with his satchel And shining morning face, creeping like snail Unwillingly to school,"—— but if he had lived in the present age of the world, he would have made a change in that description. Yesterday morning we saw numbers of schoolboys-and schoolgirls too, for now-a-days they also are permitted to pluck and eat the fruit of the tree of knowledge-with their veil-filled satchels, "shining morning faces," bright eyes, and beaming countenances, on their way to school. There was no whining, no creeping like snails unwillingly, but they were hastening joyfully to resume their studies-to greet their much-loved teachers and their fellow-pupils. and with a determination to strive to attain that degree of excellence and proficiency which shall entitle them to the medal or the prize on the next examination day.

When we feel a patriotic exultation in reflecting on the proud position that this country occupies among the nations of the earth, we should remember that we are in a great measure indebted to our schools for this distinction; and these nurseries of our growing greatness should be carefully watched and liberally fostered. There is room for improvement in this respect in Washington. The accommodations for the public schools are not such as they should be; neither are there enough of them to meet the wants of the rising generation. But it may be mentioned that the deficiency in respect to the number of the public schools is amply supplied by the numerous excellent and well-conducted private institutions in our midst, in which are taught all the various branches of education, from the lowest to the highest. For instance, there are three distinct schools attached to St. Vincent's Asylum-the orphans' school the free school for poor children, and the pay school. These schools are under the charge of the Sisters of Charity, and in them is taught all that is necessary to constitute a sound and thorough English education. For more quiring all the higher English branches, as well as ancient and modern languages. There is also the boarding and day school for young ladies, under the superintend-French Collegiate Institute, at No. 182 I street; St. John's Seminary, No 408 Fifteenth street; Lafayette Institute, on Pennsylvania avenue, near Seventeenth street; Mrs. Kingsford's Seminary for Young Ladies, No 415 F street: Miss Brooke's English and French boarding and day school, in the Seven Buildings, No 138 Pennsylvania laying of water pipes along 14th street west, from D avenue; Academy of the Visitation, corner of G and of Prof. Z. Richards, assisted in the female department by his accomplished lady; and various others. We may also refer to the Episcopal High School of Virginia, lo cated on the Heights, three miles west of Alexandria, and the Alnwick Female Seminary for boarding pupils, situated on the Baltimore and Washington railroad, sixteen miles from this city, near Laurel Factory. This is a de lightful location; and the reputation of the teachers, M. A. Tyson and sisters, is too well known in this community to require any endorsement from us. Further particulars respecting these various schools may be found in our advertising columns,

> PRESENTATION .- Last evening, at the regular monthly eeting of the Franklin Fire Company, four pictures, in handsome gilt frames, representing the four seasons, were presented to the company by one of its officers, Mr. W. M. Payne, on behalf of a lady of the second ward The pictures were duly received, and a resolution adopted returning to the lady the thanks of the company for the present, and directing that a certificate be issued making her a life member. The pictures have been suspended in the hall of the Franklin engine house, where they will be one of the finest ornaments af the room, already filled with a valuable collection of mementoes. The donor has thus manifested her appreciation of the ever prompt services of the members of this company in the hour of danger-services which are acknowledged by the > whole community. The "Local" begs also to acknowledge the receipt from the same lady of a bouquet-unequalled in magnificence and exhaling the most delightful perfume. He returns to her his sincerest thanks, and assures her that this mark of attention has touched his heart.

FIRE AT ALEXANDRIA. A little after 9 o'clock on Sunday night last a fire bpoke out in the large warehouse of S. S. Masters & Son, Thich consumed the entire building. The warehouse is signated near the river on Princess Street dock, and the engre loss is estimated at $2,000. The light was seen in this city, and attracted the attention of our firemen. The Franklin Fire Company, the Northern Liberty Hose, and the Metropolitan Hook and Ladder Company were promptly on the spot, and the Frank-lin way doing good service even before the whole of the firemen of our sister city had commenced their labors. The next morning one of the company, Mr. samuel Hoffman, of this city, went to bathe in the river, and sunk in deep water and was drowned. His afflicted companions endeavored during the day to recover the body, but without success. The deceased was a bricklayer by profession, about twenty-three years of age, and was highly esteemed by all who knew him. The party visited the spot yesterday to renew their efforts to fine the body, but up to the time of our going to press we had ot heard of their return to the city.

Accrounts, erc .- An Irish woman named Farrel ye terday fell through a hatchway in the store of Bontz & combs, on Seventh street, and received some severe ruises; no bones were brozen.

A boy named Lewis was kicked by a horse a few days igo on the island, and had his leg broken. He is nov ng well.

We learn that a German shoemaker named Piefer at empted to commit suicide yesterday; but was discovered in time to prevent fatal consequences.

OPENING OF THE SEASON.-The Washington Theatre, under the management of Messrs. Kunkel & Co., was opened for the fall season last night by the performance Richelieu. Mr. Edwin Booth, son of the distinguished actor of the same name, played this difficult character performing it in a manner that would have done credit to his father. The company is a very good one, and the performance gave great satisfaction to the very large audience present.

REVIEW OF THE POLICE.-The regular monthly review the police by the mayor took place yesterday in front of the City Hall. The roll was called and the men as sembled in a line, only four being absent. The mayor and the chief of police then passed in front of the line, from left to right, and countermarched. The men looked well, and the review was witnessed with satisfaction by a large number of spectators.

THE OFFICIAL REPORT OF THE CHIEF OF POLICE.

Washington City, Sept. 2, 1858. DEAR SIR: In accordance with the 16th section of the act establishing a police force for the city, I respectfully act establishing a police force for the city, I respectfully state that the police force during the month of August have been vigilant in the discharge of the duties assigned them. The peace and quiet of the city at this time is as good as it has been at any time for the last ten years. The greatest cause of complaint now existing with many citizens is the large number of hogs and dogs running at large contrary to law, which nuisance I hope to have abated in a few days, as strict orders have been given to the police to attend to that branch of business; for it seems that the taking up of hogs or the destroying of dors has no effect on the owners of those animals in their dogs has no effect on the owners of those animals in their keeping them confined. There have been arrested and brought to the guard-house of the city during the month 315 persons, a large proportion of them charged with 315 persons, a large proportion of them charged with drunkenness and vagrancy; of which number there werewhites, 218; colored, 97; females, 66; males, 249; natives of the District of Columbia, 102; Maryland, 37; Virginia, 32; Pennsylvania, 11; New York, 10; Kentucky, 1; Missouri, 1; North Carolina, 1; Tennessec, 1; Ireland, 90; Germany, 16; Italy, 1; Wales, 1; France, 2; England, 7; Scotland, 2; and, in addition to this number, 83 were accommodated with lodgings. The regulations in relation to the drivers of backney carriages have been more strictly enforced, with an excellent effect, and some fines on that account have been imposed.

iolations of the corporation ordinances during the month f August is $3,009 41; the amount collected is $1,285 82; and a larger amount of judgments secured by supersedeas than at any previous month. Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

J. H. GODDARD

Mayor of Washington City.

For thorough literary and seigntific culture, sound elementary instruction, the efficiency and success of the French department, and for social advantages, it is unsurpassed.

Every class, the primary as well as the senior, enjoys the personal supervision of the Pinscryal, who is assisted by three ladies of ability, experience, and the highest education.

No school out of Paris possesses a purer standard of good French, or better corrective of had French, in conversation and writing, or greater facilities for acquiring that language. It is strengthened by the accession of Prof. Alexanous.

ST. VINCENT'S SCHOOLS.—The Day-schools attached to St. Vincent's Asylum will resume business on Wednesday next, 1st of September. The large addition lately made to the house affords a fine opportunity of rearranging the schools, and after the expectence of last year they will begin this term with very many advantages. There are, in fact, three distinct schools at St. Vincent's the Orphans' School, the Free School for day scholars, and the Pay School. The first is, of course, for the orphan immates of the Asylum, who, in their discipline and education, are under the immediate care of Sisters detailed for themselves. The second, or Free School, is to meet the wants of poor children, whose parents cannot pay, and all who are thus circumstanced are earnestly pressed to send their children to this school. It is entirely distinct, but just as diligently altended to as any other, the training and teaching being strictly alike in all. If the results be not always what might be desired, perhaps the filters explanation of it is, that the peor parents can school leave their children long enough at school. The filtre is the Pay School the filters of Charity have a Pay School only in all of the charities required for the support of the orphans. In this school it is ilterally true that the Siders toach, work, and earn for the orphans, as it is also true that all who send their children their enough English education, is well taught in this school and and thorough English education, is well taught in this school on all its circumstances, its charitable object, its method of cultivating mind and heart, there is no more interesting or more important school for grits within the District, combining, under a very judicious management, comparatively little expense to parents with a full average improvement of the children.
